

PBCC EMERITUS FACULTY ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTER

August 1999

Joan Young, Editor

Welcome Note

Dear Colleagues:

It has been said, "A friend is a present you give yourself." Do plan to join us at our October meeting to greet your old friends and make new ones!

Mary Bosworth
President

Officers For 1999-2000

At the EFA meeting in May, officers for 1999-2000 were elected:

President: Mary Bosworth
Vice President: Bill Wilson
Secretary: Sylvia Meeker
Treasurer: Faye Ledbetter

Continuing in appointed positions will be Lis Erling as liaison with PBCC administration, Joan Young as newsletter editor and Helen Darcey as chair of Social Welfare.

New retiree Marjorie Toomath was presented with a free first-year membership in the EFA, and Harold Manor, former PBJC President, was granted a special lifetime membership.

In Recognition Of A Special Man

by Lis Erling

For 21 years Dr. Harold Manor served with dignity and distinction as president of Palm Beach Junior College. He was hired as PBJC's president-elect in 1957 and, for the first year, he also assumed responsibility for the College's evening division. Upon the retirement of PBJC President John I. Leonard in 1958, Manor was appointed the College's second president. He would remain in that position until 1978 when he turned over the presidential reins to Edward M. Eissey.

For over two decades Manor dedicated his life to the students and staff of Palm Beach Junior College. For years following his retirement in 1978, he regularly visited the College's Lake Worth Campus where, as the quintessential educator, he continued to volunteer his time tutoring students in computer labs. Unquestionably, he was a skilled academician and administrator.

But as impressive as these contributions are, Dr. Manor is regarded most of all as an individual of undeniable integrity and honor. He, more than any other individual, symbolizes the true spirit of Palm Beach Community College.

Mary Bosworth presents the certificate of a special lifetime EFA membership to Dr. Harold Manor, former PBJC president.

Happy News Of Retirees

Joan Jones writes from Spain, where she lives in an apartment on the Costa del Sol: "I continue to give lectures for various groups, like the American Club, the British Legion and the University of the Third Age... and always mention PBCC!" On the American Club's 25th anniversary, U.S. Ambassador

Moreno (from New Mexico) came from Madrid for the celebration. During February Joan went to India on holiday and had "a fascinating experience."

In June Eleanor Myatt, on a tour of Spain, stayed at a hotel just two blocks from Joan's condo and they met for a brief reunion. Eleanor also toured Seville, Granada, Cordoba, Toledo, and Madrid in Spain; Lisbon, Estoril, and Sintra in Portugal; and Gibraltar (best viewed when returning by ship from Africa, she says), Tangier, Rabat, Casablanca, Marrakesh and Fez in Morocco. Then she spent a week in Salisbury, England.

Ray Sweet spent much of May and June in a chalet in Leysdown as a break from his London flat and took a trip to Canterbury in late June. He says he can see the Millennium Dome (under construction) from his London window, but predicts that the 75,000-visitors-a-day projection is unlikely to be realized.

Larry Tuttle, who lives in Avon Park, feels his 13 years at PBCC (after 27 years in the U.S. Army) were very rewarding. He says Sebring's chief of police and the local sheriff's legal officer are both former students of his at PBCC.

Glen Marsteller's address through September 30 is P.O. Box 191, Mineral, CA 96063. (After that, back to Melbourne Beach).

Jim Howell's permanent address is now the one in Steinhatchee, FL, "a great place to relax, fish, scallop and hunt."

Joan Young won a trophy in the senior division at the American Crossword Puzzle Tournament in Stamford, CT, in March. For two weeks during June and July, she worked as a volunteer at the NEA Annual Representative Assembly in Orlando, most of the time staffing a microphone on the convention floor. Highlights of the convention were 1) the prospective merger of NEA and AFT; 2) the overwhelming opposition to school vouchers; 3) an electric performance by Patti LaBelle; and 4) a stirring address by Hillary Clinton.

Betty Woolfe and Bob are now well-settled in their independent living cottage in John Knox Village in Orange City. She writes that the "food is excellent with lots of variety. You select from a menu and are served." Activities are too numerous for her to list, but she has settled on tennis three times a week and bridge two times a week as her choices. She says that there are many theatres in the area, and she and Bob have attended both a community theatre and a dinner theatre. They are planning a trip to Greece this fall.

Jim McCue continues to work at tutoring and consulting. His e-mail address is jim7130@excelon-line.com and his Web site is www.members.aol.com/JMcCue8196

Marty Ambrosio and Dan now have seven granddaughters. They cruised to Norway in June.

We are happy to report that both Sunny Meyers and Trinette Robinson are recuperating well from their hip replacement surgery.

Also doing well after his surgery is Lis Erling's Tom. Their planned flight to Amsterdam and barge trip to Vienna in June unfortunately had to be canceled, when it was discovered that Tom required surgery for kidney stones two days before they were to leave. Lis reports that they are looking forward to an Erling family reunion in Oklahoma City at the end of July and booking again for Europe next year.

We have read and admired The Palm Beach Post columnist Stebbins Jefferson for a long time. For the past three years, she has also been on the full-time editorial staff for The Post. She was Freddie Johnson when she worked for PBCC in the Communications Department as an Instructor and, later, as Division I Chairperson at Eisey Campus. Our congratulations to Freddie, her family and her son for his well-deserved honor (receiving the Wigmore Key at the Northwestern University Law School).

Sylvia and Walker Graham had just returned from a trip to Texas and they thought they'd had their excitement for the summer, when, on the morning of June 10, a Cessna 182 crashed into the side of their house near Lantana. Luckily, no one was injured and little damage was done to the house. The incident was reported in the June 11 edition of The Palm Beach Post.

Honey Duncan plans a fascinating trip to Alaska during the summer.

Nancy McPherson writes that she went to a fun rally in Colorado. In Kansas the winds were so high that she had to go into a shelter twice in one night. She is back in Oregon now at the farm, where she says the strawberries are the best she's ever tasted!

Janelle Bloodworth will soon be driving to Georgia to visit friends and relatives. Inasmuch as Janelle is a Civil War "buff," she will probably find at least one place to "investigate" the War between the States more thoroughly.

Marjorie Toomath is the recipient of a free one-year Emeritus membership. She joined PBCC's Dental Health Services on Central Campus in 1965 and retired in 1999.

In Sympathy

Member Olga Connelly passed away on June 22, 1999. Olga joined the Communications Department on the Central Campus in 1965 and retired in 1977. In addition to teaching classes, Olga served as a year-book adviser for the Galleon.

The Emeritus Faculty Association expresses sympathy to her family.
